The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any ble advantages to the larmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the in-sured saves nearly one half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of the CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. seven hundred persons have insured and become embers of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by printence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. diligence at everything but his business.— Another who was honest and constant at his work, erred by perpetual misjudgments; he lacked discretion. Hundreds less their luck by endorsing; by sanguine speculation: by trusting fraudulent men; and by dishonest gains. A man never has good luck who has a bad wife. I never knew an early rising, hard working, prudent man, careful of his earnings and strictly honest, who complained of bad luck. A good character, good habits, and iron industry, are impregnable to the assaults of all the ill luck that fools ever dreamed of. But when I see a tatterdemalion, creeping out of a grocery late in the afternoon with his hand stuck in his pockets, the rim of his hat turned up, and the crown knocked in,

I know he has bad luck-for the worst of all

It seems that the graduating class of Rochester University have a pleasant custom, the observance of which, we believe, is peculiar to that new and flourishing institution. We allude to what is called "the annual ceremony of planting the tree" on the eve of the graduation of each senior class. This ceremony took place for this year on the 30th ultimo, and was celebrated with literary addresses, original poems, &c. The Rochester Union gives the subjoined description of the rites accompanying this college institute:

"The Senior class marched from the residence of Prof. Cutting to the grounds, and were greeted with loud cheers by the other classes and citizens assembled to witness the ceremony. After the president of the class, marshal, and master of ceremonies, came the bearers of the bottle which contained a record of the proceedings, with the oration and peom. The bottle and its contents were then buried immediately under the place prepared for the tree. The class set the tree, an elm, with their own hands, each member taking some active part in the work. After FRANK SCHULTZE, a song, prepared for the occasion, in which the whole class and many of the spectators joined, a poem was read. The members of the class, after depositing each his shovel of dirt at the roots of the tree, joining hands, sang an original hymn, during which they dropped their evergreens into the excavation, symbolizing the burial of all rivalries and jealousies which may have existed among them. At this point , the silence was almost breathless, and the whole audience cemed to catch the spirit of the occasion."
